Tip ...for safety. . .

There are several styles of quick release stirrups that are designed to minimize the rider's foot from becoming caught in the stirrup which can result in the rider being dragged.

These are known as peacock irons, safety irons, quick-out, or quick release.

FYI

Having trouble getting the "dingy" out of your white saddle pads? Try pre-treating with Quic Silver. Yes, the shampoo you use on your grey horses! Just squeeze a little Quic Silver onto the really dirty spots and scrub it in. You can also add a bit of the shampoo to the washing machine soak cycle and then complete washing as usual.
